KEY TAKEAWAY

The decline in May suggests a need to analyze factors affecting monthly performance.

- May's actual of $501k is lower than April's $511k peak.
- The trend shows a recent peak in April, followed by a slight decline.
- Year-over-year, actual remains strong compared to mid-2025 levels around $484k.

In May 2026, actual totaled $501k, reflecting a decrease of $10k or -1.9% compared to April's peak of $511k. This decline follows a recent upward trend, with April marking the highest monthly actual in the past year. Historically, actual has shown seasonal fluctuations, with the highest figures typically occurring in the early months of the year.

DEPARTMENT BREAKDOWN

Operations leads with $101k, but decreased by -$8k from April.

KEY TAKEAWAY

Focus on revitalizing Operations and leveraging Marketing's growth to enhance overall performance.

- Operations decreased by -$8k, leading the department totals at $101k.
- Sales remains significant at $147k, but declined by -$1k.
- Marketing increased by +$2k, showing growth in its budget allocation.

In May 2026, Operations holds the highest total at $101k, despite a decline of -$8k compared to April. Sales follows closely with $147k, also experiencing a slight decrease of -$1k. Marketing is the only department that saw an increase, rising by +$2k to reach $75k, indicating a positive trend in that area.

Priorities for the coming month

1. Increase Sales initiatives to capitalize on the $147k contribution, which is 29.3% of total.
2. Investigate the $8k decline in Operations to identify root causes and implement corrective actions.
3. Review budget allocations to ensure support for departments experiencing declines, particularly Operations.
4. Enhance performance tracking to address the overall actual decrease of $10k from the prior month.
